

Wireless Headset Communication Systems for

Directional Drilling Operations

Do MORE in less time

Sonetics wireless headsets and communication systems keep team members in constant two-way voice communication (just like a phone call) through a simple, 'grab-and-go' local voice network. Our headsets are completely wireless, hands-free and give users increased mobility and hearing protection while lowering the risk of accidents and injuries.

Sonetics delivers results

Customers tell us they need a simple, powerful way to communicate on the job site. You want performance, ease-of-use, reliability and support. Sonetics wireless headsets are designed to deliver on your needs.
